Dear Friends of the Preborn,

Though we at Missionaries to the Preborn do a plethora of activities and outreaches on behalf of the preborn - including now an intensive effort to rally the interposition of the lower magistrates on their behalf - the main effort has been and continues to be daily intervention outside the deathcamps themselves. Six days a week the Missionaries faithfully minister outside Milwaukee's two remaining deathcamps. This is tough, taxing ministry – but so needed. Two of them share testimonies and words of encouragement below.

Anne says...

Recently I approached a young mom as she left Planned Parenthood. She told me she had changed her mind and did not abort. Why? Her grandmother had kept calling her! Behold the effectiveness of a persistent loved one!

On the same day, a young couple approached the abortion site. The woman was crying faintly. I asked her how I could help her, and she said "I'll be okay." When her boyfriend asked me to leave her alone, I said, "She doesn't want to do this!" I called a friend to pray, and 10 minutes later the couple exited the back door and went to their car. Our presence and prayers do make a difference!

Jesus told us to "love your neighbor as yourself." Are we loving our tiny preborn neighbors who are being murdered in our city? Your help is needed to reach out to abortion-bound moms and dads at the two remaining death mills in Milwaukee - each Monday through Saturday, and on Wednesday evenings. We need more laborers!

Please call us at (414) 462-3399 to get involved now!

From Tony...

This winter has been one of the hardest ones I can remember. Not just because of the long cold temperatures and the cold hearts of mothers walking past you and into the killing centers, but also we have been low on personnel to reach these mothers. But God comes through again to bring encouragement to us.

Today, a mother who was in the killing place came out pushing the two deathscorts aside and wrapping her arms around I and another dear lady Kari who comes out when she can. This mother gave us a huge hug and repeatedly thanked us for being there. In tears of joy she asks for prayer for her and her baby and for strength as she asks her parents for help with her decision to keep her baby. She said that by our presence... (over) there she changed her mind. So of course I prayed with her, sharing her joy with tears as well. The aggressive deathscorts stood dumbfounded as they were able to witness the beauty of it all. Thank you LORD for coming to a good end of a hard winter.

"Did not he who made me in the womb make them? Did not the same One form us both within our mothers?" - Job 31:15

You too can make a difference - and your help is greatly needed. Not only are people needed to speak to the mothers, but also to hold signs and pass out literature. Please consider coming out to the deathcamps to demonstrate love for your preborn neighbor. Thank you to the many of you who are unable to come out, but who faithfully support our efforts so that we can continue with this needed Mission. May He be praised!

Sidewalk Counseling Training Session

Monday, March 30th

7:00 - 8:30 PM in Wauwatosa

You are so needed! Each month we see preborn babies rescued from a brutal death by the efforts of those who stand outside the deathcamps here in Milwaukee and declare truth and offer help to those approaching. Now you can be trained in the simple procedures employed by those who do so. The training will be held at the Wauwatosa Library located at 7635 W. Norht Ave. The training will be conducted by Anne Franczek who has over 25 years experience outside abortion clinics in various states across America. If you can't attend, call anyway, we can arrange a one-on-one training.

No cost. Materials will be provided.

Governor Scott Walker Betrays Christ

Denigrates God's created order and exploits children to justify his support of lawlessness

By Pastor Matthew Trehella

When the U.S. Supreme Court refused to hear Wisconsin's appeal regarding homosexual marriage being imposed on the state by a federal appellate court, Governor Scott Walker responded by saying, "For us, it's over in Wisconsin. The federal courts have ruled that this decision by this court of appeals decision is the law of the land and we will be upholding it."

Walker went on to say, "I'd rather be talking in the future now more about our jobs plan and our plan for the future of the state. I think that's what matters to the kids. It's not this issue." This is a truly delusional statement.

Walker is so enthralled by money that he actually views it as more important than marriage. Consider that, by making homosexual marriage "the law of the land," every child that attends government schools in Wisconsin will be taught that homosexual marriage is good, legitimate, and normal. The process has already begun in Wisconsin to standardize it in the schools.

Sorry Governor Walker, but I think "what matters to the kids" is that those in positions of authority wield their power properly. Marriage and family is the core foundation upon which societies are built. If you pervert that – any plan you have for the future of the state is pointless and meaningless.

Walker has proffered this deranged justification because he wants this issue to just go away. He is blind. He fails to see something that is so germane to human existence – the created order of God regarding marriage and family. He has become one of the countless zombies now roaming this land who goes along to get along; who are incapable of independent thought and are herded like scared cattle into conforming to such baneful evil.

He is willing to join hands - as Governor - with wicked men who are giving the force of law to the most base amongst us.

This is an issue that must be addressed.

Governor Walker trotted State Attorney General J.B. Van Hollen out to "feign a fight" against the federal judge who trampled Wisconsin's Constitution and speedily complied when a subsequent federal court ruled (surprise, surprise) against the Attorney General.

In reality, Governor Walker has a duty to interpose. He should simply refuse to implement the federal court ruling. In fact, only he can implement homosexual marriage in Wisconsin. Constitutional attorney Mat Staver responded to Walker's blithe obedience to the federal court's immoral ruling by stating:

"I think Scott Walker is wrong. The court's decisions do not have any independent power. The only power that they have is if the executive [Governor Walker] chooses to enforce them. He is... (over) the head enforcer for all of Wisconsin. If he ultimately disagreed with the constitutional interpretation of this [what the federal judge ruled], which obviously it is erroneous to strike down the marriage laws, then he has an independent obligation to make sure the [state] constitution is being complied with.”

Again, only Governor Walker can implement homosexual marriage in Wisconsin. He is lying when he says there is nothing else he can do but obey the federal court.

The people have a duty in this matter also. First, they have a duty to prod the Governor and other lower magistrates to interpose and defy the federal judiciary. Second, they have the duty to rally to them when they do defy and assure them that they will have their backs; that they will give of their substance and very lives – both publicly and privately – to support them.

Sadly, what I have seen while this process has been playing out is that most Christians have more fealty for the GOP and Scott Walker than they do for Christ. And have sat silent.

The interposition I describe here is what is known as the doctrine of the lesser magistrates. The doctrine is a tool employed by men for thousands of years with a proven track record to rein in tyrannical actions by higher ranking civil authority.

The doctrine succinctly stated is: When the higher ranking civil authority makes unjust or immoral laws, polices, or court rulings – the lower or lesser ranking civil authority has both the right and the duty not to obey the higher authority; and if necessary to actively resist the higher authority.

Well-known churchman of the Reformation – John Knox – wrote on this doctrine and cited over 70 passages of Scripture to define and support it. Roman Emperor Trajan encapsulated the doctrine when he was giving a sword to a subordinate and he told him: “Use this sword against my enemies if I give righteous commands, but if I give unrighteous commands – use it against me.”

Rather than do his duty, Governor Scott Walker has spit in the face of Christ. He has failed to defend every decent family trying to raise sons and daughters in Wisconsin. When government officials make unrighteous “law” which impugns the created order and Word of God, they are to be opposed. Governor Walker, however, has joined hands with such malevolent men.

As of this writing, two governors and a chief justice in the states of Alabama and Texas are talking interposition and defiance of federal tyranny. They are doing right and refusing to implement homosexual marriage in their states.

Governor Walker on the other hand has joined wicked men in their rebellion against God. He should not be given a pass for his destructive, politically-expedient actions, rather all Christians in Wisconsin should call him to account and demand he do what is right and needed – defend our state constitution and the created order of God.

Matthew Trehella is the pastor of Mercy Seat Christian Church (MercySeat.net). He and his wife, Clara, have eleven children and reside in the Milwaukee, Wisconsin area.
