Dear Friends of the Preborn,

In 1991, 25 years ago, several hundred Christians gathered for the 'Summer of Mercy' event in Wichita, Kansas to defend the preborn by interposing at the doors of the deathcamps there. Their numbers soon swelled to thousands - and then tens of thousands. Many repented of their apathy and took action for their neighbor.

Soon the federal government came out with their marshals and their federal courts and magistrates in order to assure that the abortionist could continue his grisly trade. Unfortunately, the lesser magistrates - the government of officials of Kansas - stood down and allowed the bloodshed to continue.

Now, 25 years later, Christians are returning to Wichita - and they are carrying with them the doctrine of the lesser magistrates. They plan to inform the people of Kansas and their magistrates of this historical Christian doctrine.

Missionaries to the Preborn will participate in this 25 year reunion being conducted by Operation Save America. For a few years there was no deathcamp left in Wichita, but now the infamous Dr. Tiller's deathcamp has been reopened. Please consider being a part of this effort. Contact us by phone or email to learn the details of how you can travel with us to Wichita this July.

Please continue to pray for all the efforts of Missionaries to the Preborn. We are out at both of the two remaining deathcamps here in Milwaukee every day that they are open - speaking up for those who cannot speak for themselves. Plus we conduct many other events out on the streets. Since our last mailing, among other things, we have done our monthly Tours, lit-dropped numerous high-schools, participated in a university tour in Iowa, and were there when the GOP candidates gathered to debate on CNN in downtown Milwaukee. May Christ be glorified in the earth!

Pastor Matt Treuhella

The Interposition of Magistrates on Behalf of the Preborn

On April 8th, 2016, the “End Abortion Now” presentation was streamed live across America. Thousands watched and the discussion it produced caused it to be #4 on Twitter.

Pastor Matt Trehwella was one of the speakers.

Watch and listen to the 42 minute presentation that Pastor Matt delivered on the doctrine of the lesser magistrates. This doctrine has been employed by men for thousands of years. The doctrine is found in Scripture and history, and has repeatedly proven successful to rein in the unjust or immoral actions of the higher civil authority.

The Duty of Lower Magistrates in the Face of Tyranny (An Election Sermon)

This sermon was preached in the capitol rotunda in Helena, Montana on January 4th, 2015. A crowd of about 200 gathered to hear this election sermon. There were about 40 state legislators present along with other government officials.

This sermon took the hearers by storm – rousing their hearts.

Election sermons were common in early America. In the past – during the first 100 years of our nation – many pastors preached every year what became known as “election” and “artillery” sermons. Clergymen understood and taught their congregations that God’s Word addressed all matters of life, including the matters of civil government.

Should Women be Punished for Murdering Their Own Son or Daughter by Abortion?

Roe v. Wade Opinion actually spoke to this

By Pastor Matthew Trehella

Donald Trump caused a firestorm recently when being grilled by Chris Matthews of MSNBC as to whether there should be punishment for women if abortion is made illegal. Trump, who clearly never thought about this before, said what any rational person would say – “Yeah.”

This caused a chorus of furor from the GOP, Trump’s presidential opponents, countless pro-life/pro-family groups, and every leftist in America. But what Trump said was a no-brainer.

Any thinking person understands that when something is legislated as a crime, there is a consequence if you commit the crime. If abortion is made illegal, the woman should be punished. When a murder takes place - all those who are party to the crime are charged with murder.

But see, the “pro-life movement” in this nation has made the woman into a victim. That’s right – they actually want us to believe that the woman who hires a paid assassin to murder her own child is in fact a victim herself.

There is something absurd about calling abortion the capital crime of murder (as pro-lifers and Christians rightly do), and then saying there should be no punishment for the person who hires a paid assassin to murder their own son or daughter. This moral schizophrenia is an insult to the very nature of justice.

Having stood outside abortion clinics for hundreds of hours, I can assure the vast majority of women coming to murder their children know exactly what they are doing. If it were illegal, they would all be without excuse.

I remember when I was young hearing a Right to Life leader say that abortionists should only be given a ticket the first time they are caught committing an abortion. That statement, coupled with his follow-up that women should receive no punishment at all, left me thinking – so what’s the big deal about abortion?

If those who are opposed to abortion think the penalty should be a ticket and nothing at all, surely the killing of the preborn cannot be that big of a thing. Abortion is just a “not-nice” thing. Do you see the inconsistency between calling abortion “murder” and then stating such penalties for committing such an act? I can assure you that if you read the comment sections of articles about pro-life/pro-family groups condemning Trump’s statement – you readily see that the wicked see the inconsistency.

Americans United for Life – like National Right to Life and most pro-life/pro-family organizations in America – is an organization who has enriched itself off the bloody backs of the murdered preborn for decades by promoting their endless incremental laws against abortion – while at the same time attacking Personhood Amendments or any legislation that could simply bring an end to the killing immediately.

Not surprising therefore that AUL's Clark Forsythe has written to convince pro-lifers that women should not be prosecuted. In fact, the pro-life movement has been conducting a nationwide campaign (your donations at work) for years now to remove all anti-abortion statutes off the books in states that did criminalize the actions of the woman – all while promoting the mantra that the woman is a victim.

For example, here in Wisconsin in 2011, after taking office our GOP governor, Scott Walker, along with the majority GOP Assembly and Senate – repealed and gutted all punishment for women in our ages-old anti-abortion statute. This was all done at the behest of Wisconsin Right to Life, NRTL, AUL, and others. What the wicked Democrats couldn't accomplish for years was accomplished by the GOP and the "pro-life" organizations.

They are spitting on the humanity of the preborn child.

Even The U. S. Supreme Court saw the inconsistency of such non-penalties. Blackmun used the lack of punishment to the woman and the low punishment to the abortionist as proof that the preborn child must not be "a person."

The Roe v. Wade opinion reads:

"There are other inconsistencies between Fourteenth Amendment status and the typical abortion statute. It has already been pointed out, n. 49, supra, that, in Texas, the woman is not a principal or an accomplice with respect to an abortion upon her. If the fetus is a person, why is the woman not a principal or an accomplice? Further, the penalty for criminal abortion specified by Art. 1195 is significantly less than the maximum penalty for murder prescribed by Art. 1257 of the Texas Penal Code. If the fetus is a person, may the penalties be different?" [Endnote 54]

The Court is pointing out the incongruity of the Texas law. 1.) The 3 to 6-year sentence for the abortionist came far short of the capital punishment proper to anyone convicted of the premeditated murder of another person; and, 2.) the mother is not punished at all.

The Court is saying "If the preborn child is a 'person', why no penalty for the mother and such minimal penalty for the abortionist?" By refusing to criminalize the actions of the woman and instead labeling her a victim – we undermine both the humanity of the preborn child and the rightly stated argument that abortion is murder.

When we are asked what the punishment should be for women who have illegal abortions, we should unashamedly respond – whatever the penalty is for murder in the state where it takes place. Of course, as Christians, we offer the good news of redemption through Christ to those guilty of abortion, just as we would any other criminal guilty of a capital crime. But that does not negate the God-given role of the civil magistrate to administer just punishment on behalf of society and in accordance with the law of God.

To think otherwise about this matter, is to give credence to the present matriarchal bloodlust in our nation, just as the Romans gave credence to the past patriarchal bloodlust of fathers who could murder their own sons and daughters by leaving them at the infanticide wall to die.
